

CORRECTION, RETRACTION AND WITHDRAWAL POLICYCorrections*Before publications:

Publisher sends the PDF Galley proofs to the author for proofreading and corrections. Author can highlight corrections if any. These can be correction before actual publishing the article.

Post Publishing:

Corrections in the published paper article could be made if it seriously affects the results. Corrections are published in the subsequent issue.

Retraction or withdrawal

In some rare instances we need to withdrawal or retract the article. These instance may be copyright violation of another publisher, misconducting facts and figures etc. Although during review process reviewer checks all these things, but it may happen. So article could be corrected, retracted or withdrawal.

A notation will be inserted on the original version of article indicating the date of retraction or withdrawal and in the most of cases reader can get brief explanation of that.
